

Silverleaf whitefly: examples of healthy and parasitised life stages

Healthy SLW

Healthy mycetomes

Red eye nymph

Wing bud development

Adult silverleaf whitefly

Empty nymph case (white)

Parasitised SLW

Displaced mycetomes
(away from central position)

Red faecal waste (top)
and parasitoid larva

Parasitoid pupae and adults:
Eretmocerus sp (top) and Encarsia sp (bottom)

Empty nymph case (brown)
with round exit hole

Australian Government
Cotton Research and Development Corporation

